Building a Strong Community through Community Health

On behalf of the thousands of patients whose lives were touched in the past year, thank you for empowering them back to good health with your generosity, compassion and belief that health care is an important investment.

— Lisa Alexander, CFRE, President
CoxHealth Foundation

There are many ways to build a strong community. If you have good schools, steady jobs, recreation and faith, you've begun to set the stage. Another component which can't be overlooked is good health. Whether it's you, a loved one, co-worker or friend—your health or lack of it, impacts everyone around you.

Consider the domino effect. If an older parent takes ill, the adult child can be called in to help. Their spouse and family are impacted. There's no one to drive to the soccer game, if they take off work, a co-worker has to pick up what needs to be done. One illness can trickle down to cause change and disruption in many more lives. To be healthy and stay healthy as a community means we are all more productive and in the end, prosperous.

As a donor to the CoxHealth Foundation, you have been a part of laying the groundwork for good health to not only take root, but flourish. Through the 31 Patient Service Funds established at the CoxHealth Foundation, patients can access resources not found anywhere else in the community. Whether it is for a stroke, cancer, heart disease, expecting mothers or seniors in the prime of their life, these funds exist to be a helping hand when no other support exists.

As we wrapped up 2009, you, our donors contributed $3,117,451.46 to patient care,

A crowd gathered at the ceremony to kick-off the construction and campaign for the new Emergency Department at CoxHealth. The Lipscomb Family Wing will be opened in September of 2010. The lead gift from Larry and Tracy Lipscomb and Jack and Cathryn Cox Lipscomb (featured in the groundbreaking photo, upper left, also featured Stuart Lipscomb) will create the most state of the art facility in southwest Missouri.

health professions education, facilities and technology as well as disease prevention and health care programs. Every dollar contributed is put to work immediately to ensure your gift has a positive return. On behalf of the thousands of patients whose lives were touched in the past year, thank you for empowering them back to good health with your generosity, compassion and belief that health care is an important investment.

Sincerely,
Lisa Alexander

The Role of Grants

As the economy continues to impact the lives of those we serve, it becomes increasingly important to find new ways to address the many needs of our healthcare system and community. Grants have now become a viable option where health care is viewed as an invaluable funding opportunity for our government, corporations and private foundations. In 2009 grant funding created many resources for CoxHealth in a diversity of areas including the following:

- Thanks to the long-standing support of the local Musgrave Foundation and other community-based agencies, many students received health professions scholarships. The Kerr Foundation supported simulation equipment to enhance the learning experience of nursing students and those in health professions who receive training at Cox College.
- The Greene County Senior Services Tax Fund provided for a new Senior Advantage van and Life Line support for low-income home bound patients.
- A portion of landfill fees paid are redistributed to the community through competitive grants, providing bins to CoxHealth for a plastic and aluminum recycling project. The green efforts continued with a grant that allowed the playground surface to be renewed at the CoxHealth Learning Center North that was made from recycled tires.
- The Missouri Foundation (MHF) for Health funded a grant for respiratory therapists at Cox Monett Hospital to work with thirteen Barry-Lawrence County schools in a community childhood asthma program. It also funded the Cassville Medical Care Associates new medical social worker, purchased house-calls program equipment, and sponsored geriatric community education provided by Cox College. Additionally, a four year program for diabetes case management came from MFH.

CoxHealth employees donated their time to lay rubber mat tiles for a new playground surface at the Cox North Learning Center. The recycled material tiles were provided through a grant from Missouri DNR.

- The fight against child abuse was aided by two grants from the Missouri Children's Trust Fund. The "Circle of Care" offered family bonding and stress reduction through infant massage while "Safe Cribs" partnered over 10 community agencies with the CoxHealth Foundation to provide a safe sleep environment for children.
- Additional grant funding from the Christopher Reeve Foundation provided a pool lift chair for disabled users of the Meyer Center, Ozarks Health Advocacy Foundation provided dental assistance for low-income oncology patients, and a state grant gave additional training funds for incumbent workers.

When we work together with our community to provide well-designed programs that make efficient use of limited resources, we help our funding partners meet their goals and we bring value to our health care system and to our community.

If you have an idea for providing better service to our patients and our community and would like to discuss possible sources of funding, please contact Betty Denson, Grants Administrator for CoxHealth Foundation, at 417-269-3463.

Emergency Department Building a Strong Community

Cathryn Cox Lipscomb addresses the audience at the groundbreaking of the ER. Mrs. Lipscomb shared her passion for supporting CoxHealth and all those it serves.

2009 saw the start of one of the biggest investments in health care expansion since the opening of Cox South. The Emergency Department addition was kicked off with a groundbreaking ceremony in May and marked the start of the ER fundraising campaign. The lead gift was made by the Lipscomb family—Jack and Cathryn Cox Lipscomb and their son and daughter-in-law, Larry and Tracy Lipscomb. In honor of their generosity the ER will bear the name Lipscomb Family Wing. Cathryn Cox Lipscomb is the daughter of CoxHealth's namesake, Lester E. Cox and has served as an active member of the hospital's advisory board. Larry Lipscomb currently serves on the CoxHealth board of directors as well as the CoxHealth Foundation board and is former chair of the Cox College board. All the Lipscombs have been active in volunteer efforts for CoxHealth.

Calling it "our own version of stimulus," CoxHealth CEO Robert Bezanson shared his pride in offering the community not only the finest in emergency medicine with this construction, but the creation of hundreds of local jobs using mostly local contractors to complete the project. When finished the new ER will be 78,000 square feet of space, nearly three times the size of the current center. Patients will find 62 private patient rooms and a 26 bed observation unit for those needing to be monitored for less than 24 hours. The new ER will contain five trauma rooms including one specific to pediatrics. The ER will house its own radiology center with MRI, CT, X-ray and other capabilities. Additionally an embedded lab and pharmacy will help to expedite services that patients require while in the ER, helping to dramatically reduce wait times. Other patient focused services include a chapel, Healing Garden, multiple family waiting areas and private patient consult areas.

The CoxHealth Foundation created a campaign to help enhance the care given in the Emergency Department. Funds will be used to support the purchase of the latest technologies in emergency care from the entry and registration process, through radiology and into compassionate driven comforts like blanket warmers and pediatric toys in the family waiting areas.

CoxHealth Foundation president, Lisa Alexander says, "There are only so many dollars available today to create expanded health care services. The donor investments help to take us to the next level, to elevate the center above and beyond all expectations of care. These resources combined with the incredible group of physicians, nurses and support staff means you won't find any better care anywhere else in the region or state." Donors have the option to sponsor a room in the ER with gift opportunities ranging from $2,500 to $150,000. All gifts can be pledged over a five year period of time and to date over 47 rooms have sponsors. Alexander says, "The community has embraced this project and invested in one of our most important assets. An ER is for everyone and at anytime, any or all of us in this community may need its services. By being a part of this campaign, you are ensuring the finest in emergency medicine is right here where we need it." Additionally, a brick component of the fundraising campaign has netted over 220 donations. The bricks will hold personal messages and will create the pathway in the Healing Garden off the ER front lobby waiting area. A $100 gift gives a donor a permanent piece of CoxHealth history. Brick orders and rooms are still available by contacting CoxHealth Foundation at 269-7150. A special celebration for the ER opening is planned for September of 2010. Alexander says, "It will be an incredible day when we open the doors, we hope everyone will come out and see their ER!"

Cox College

Preparing the Next Generation

In 2009 Cox College received three human patient simulators thanks to the donations of alumni, individual donors and the Kerr Foundation.

Radiology faculty are decked out as Harry Potter fans to raise funds for scholarships at the annual Radiology Trivia night.

In 2009 the Higher Learning Commission Board gave approval for Cox College to offer an Associate Degree in Radiography. This was formerly a certificate program. As a result, the Cox School of Diagnostic Imaging transitioned into Cox College. Starting in August of this year the first class to receive an Associate Degree in Radiography will be seated and there are 71 qualified applications for the 26 spots.

As health care remains a viable industry with lots of opportunities, more students are coming to Cox College to prepare for their future. 2010 kicked off with a 27.5% enrollment increase over 2009 including increases in the number of nursing, health sciences, medical billing and transcription students. As the majority of today's students require some form of financial aid to attend, scholarship dollars remain a vital part of the College's program. In 2009, thanks to existing scholarship funds, new donors and annual gifts, $245,502.25 in scholarships were awarded. Scholarships are established for nursing, radiology and health science students. To see the complete list of all scholarships that can be supported through your donations, view our Catalog of Funds for Nursing at www.coxhealthfoundation.com. In 2009 the Norman Dale Reimer Scholarship fund was established by a Burge alum bringing the number to 46 of available scholarship funds. Every gift guarantees the entry of another student into a health professions career and a lifetime of rewards in providing compassionate care.

Adding to the excitement at Cox College was the 2009 creation of the Nursing Resource Center. Thanks to alumni of Burge/Cox College, individual donors and the estate of Barbara Brackley, two adult Human Patient Simulators and a baby simulator were purchased.

As health care continues to evolve and our population ages, patient health care issues become increasingly complex. The SIM software can be programmed to present a full range of patient conditions, allowing the student to have situational training, such as teamwork needed for the high-risk settings of emergency situations, labor and delivery, and intensive care units. The SIM reacts just as the real patient would and provides an ideal environment for learning, as well as greatly enhanced patient care and safety. Trainees can make a diagnosis and practice other interactions or interventions as a result of the SIM's response to the care provided. This high tech learning environment is fully available thanks to donors to the CoxHealth Foundation.

Success Stories of The Breast Care Fund: Kelly Smith

Kelly has a lot on her plate. Her kidney disease has progressed and she's scheduled for a transplant. Due to other health issues, she had to have a hysterectomy. If that wasn't enough, she found a lump in her breast.

Concerned, Kelly acted fast and went to the CoxHealth Breast Care Clinic for an ultrasound and a mammogram. The news wasn't good right off the bat. The next step was a biopsy to determine if what doctors were seeing was cancer. When the news came back, she was overwhelmed. "It was just a huge relief, it wasn't cancer," says Kelly, "but now I had to figure out how to pay for all the tests."

Due to Kelly's kidney disease she had trouble getting insurance. The provider she has requires a very high deductible and an equally high premium payment. That meant thousands and thousands of dollars that Kelly would have to pay. "I was offered an application from the Breast Care Fund and they gave me a grant. I was just so grateful because I know I have a lot more expenses coming with my kidney transplant." A helping hand at a time when Kelly needed it most, the Breast Care Fund relieved one of the many burdens she faces. "It is just wonderful to have help and it took some of the fear away from all the other things still ahead."

OZARKS WOMEN'S LINKS GOLF TOURNAMENT

The 13th Annual OWL Tournament raised more than $41,000 to benefit the Breast Care Fund at CoxHealth Foundation. This fund supports the needs of women before and after diagnosis of breast cancer with funding for mammography, biopsy and follow up care. Each golfer received a 'swag bag' packed full of donated items from sponsors and local businesses. The Breast Care Fund silent auction held in November raised $20,240 for a grand total of $60,240 to support the fight against breast cancer!

Success Stories of The Breast Care Fund: Bambi Yoast

A faithful patient, Bambi Yoast has received a mammogram every year since turning 40. She believes in preventative care after losing her mother to cervical cancer at 39.

It was time for her visit again and she was worried because she was having a lot of pain in her left breast. Then her dad had a stroke and her health had to wait. Sadly Bambi's father died, her husband was laid off from his job and the insurance that paid for her annual mammogram was gone. Fear began to compound with the pain she continued to feel. She worried-#1 do I have cancer and #2 how do I pay for this.

Bambi decided her health was too important to wait. She scheduled her mammogram and decided she would figure out the finances later. After a biopsy was completed, it was determined she did have cysts, but thankfully, they were benign.

Through it all Bambi remained positive. She had hardships from her husband's job loss, the medical bills and compounding it all was her need to help pay for her father's funeral. At the CoxHealth Breast Care Clinic she was offered an application for the Breast Care Fund at the CoxHealth Foundation. She filled it out and learned in a few days that she had been approved for a $1,500 grant.

Bambi says, "I sat down and cried more the day I got the grant then when they told me it was benign. Things kept coming at me and coming at me and I just couldn't take much more. I can't express how much the grant meant to me and there are real people out there that care." Bambi is doing well and is an advocate for all women. She says, "Get your mammogram, they do save lives."

KNOT FORGOTTEN CAMPAIGN

Annually Christmas trees are displayed in the lobbies of the Hulston Cancer Center, Cox South and the Cox South Atrium. These trees are adorned with gold and red bows that are purchased by anyone wishing to honor or remember those who have fought or are fighting cancer. In addition, local businesses and individuals help support this fund with sponsorship of the trees. All proceeds benefit the Glauser Oncology Fund at CoxHealth Foundation which fully funds the Patient Advocacy Program. The Advocates provide another ally for cancer patients and their families as they are receiving care. The program links patients with resources and assists them with any need they might have in relation to their cancer diagnosis. Total raised: $7,000
