Philanthropy is an important part of our culture at CoxHealth.

Because of generous support from individuals like yourself, businesses, foundations and organizations, we are able to provide world-class healthcare in the Ozarks. As the only locally owned nonprofit health system in the region, we are especially grateful for members of The Ellen Burge Legacy Society.

The Ellen Burge Legacy Society is named in honor of Ellen Burge, who generously donated her duplex in 1906, which became the first home for CoxHealth and Springfield's second hospital.

You can become a member of The Ellen Burge Legacy Society by including your Children's Miracle Network Hospital at CoxHealth or the CoxHealth Foundation as a beneficiary in your will, trust, or estate plan. Simply provide us with the cover page and beneficiary section indicating you have remembered us in your will, trust, retirement plan, life insurance policy, financial account or title of specific property.

Becoming a member of The Ellen Burge Legacy Society includes the following benefits*:

- A special Induction Package
- Your name listed on the Donor Wall at Cox South
- A personalized engraved award, certificate, and lapel pin
- VIP invitations to exclusive CoxHealth special events

All benefits are subject to annual review.*

"My daughter Ryan was born with Spina Bifida in 1988 which left her unable to use her legs as well as numerous other health issues that plagued her throughout her 17 years of life. Children's Miracle Network Hospitals came alongside her providing support both emotionally, and financially during our greatest time of need.

Children's Miracle Network Hospitals has done the same for countless children and families in our community over the years which is why I have chosen to place the organization in my estate plan. There is no greater feeling and use of funds than knowing the impact your dollar has on your neighbors at a time when they desperately need a lifeline."

— Ed Capps,
Ellen Burge Society Donor
